IS THIS THE LAST MISSION FOR THE LAST OBLITERATOR?

Your personal communicator bleeps. A summons.

The Federation Council of Elders want you. And they want you now.

No time to pack – a Nuclonic inter-stellar shuttle is on its way to collect you – the last time this happened it took them three months to put your body back together again.

You shudder – the adrenalin is pumping. You're tough, you're mean, and you're ready for action – but what's in store?

Something big is about to break – the star fleet was on alert for days – then one morning it was gone, the whole fleet and no one knew where.

The top brass have been running around with stark terror on their faces – no one knows why.

And now they are going to tell you – the last of the Obliterators.

Why? During the last war you and the unit you commanded were heroes – wherever the fighting was hottest and bloodiest who did they send? – the Obliterators of course, the most highly trained élite lighting force ever assembled; each one recruited at birth from amongst the population of billions in Federation space; each one intensively trained and educated from childhood each one with a genetically enhanced body to speed up reflexes, enhance the senses and increase strength and agility.

Always the Obliterator mission was suicidal, always a last attempt to rescue impossible situations against impossible odds. And always – incredibly – you survived.

But the Clone Wars were eight years ago, and since then the Obliterators have only been called upon to undertake the occasional suicide mission – but you always came back and that's why you're the only Obliterator left. And that's why they want you.

The briefing is over and you have your orders. It's hard to believe that the summons came less than four hours ago – now you're three million parsecs away, about to enter into the most dangerous situation of you life – and you're alone.

With all else failed the Elders had to call on you – and what they told you was beyond belief.

The entire Federation Star Fleet had been destroyed by a single Alien Spaceship – and what a Spaceship!

For centuries the Federation had been the most powerful force in the galaxy. Ever expanding outward, colonising new worlds and absorbing old alien cultures. More than a thousand worlds knew and enjoyed Federation law and order. But all this was not without cost. Expansion inwards towards the galactic core revealed many old alien civilizations some of which where both unwilling to join the Federation and technologically superior.

Federation attempts to coerce these Aliens into joining them had made many enemies.

Now these enemies have banded together to construct a seemingly indestructible craft – and they are hell bent on revenge.

Enormous in size and apparently invulnerable this craft is heading straight into the centre of Federation Space. Its apparent mission – the destruction of the Federation homeworld – Earth.

The Star fleet never stood a chance. The alien ships anti-matter screens deflected everything they threw at it with scornful ease, and then it simply removed the fleet from existence with its main weapons. The technology is awesome.

The Elders' plan is simple. There exists a prototype matter transporter, the lastest thing in interstellar travel. It has two problems – no living creature has yet used it and the immense power needed to transport an object as complex as a human being. There is though enough power to put one person aboard the alien ship and the Elders have given you the 'honour'.

And how about this for a mission – the Elders only want you to disable the Plasma drive engines – bring down its battle shields and disable the main weapons system. That should give the Federation's few remaining strike craft a chance to destroy the cruiser – but that's just for starters.

The Federation also need information on the alien ship. Any alien computer datapacks must be recovered – the information they contain is vital. Which means they expect you to somehow survive and escape before they destroy the ship.

Now the mission begins.

Luckily it worked – your body was broken down into elemental parts, then beamed aboard the alien craft out in deepest space where it has been re-assembled – not a pleasant experience.

But everything seems to be in the right place, and in working order.

The environment is strange but the atmosphere breathable. All seems menacing.

From the limited intelligence the Federation scanners were able to pick up, you know that this craft is crewed by a mixture of androids, robots and the worst kind of bad guy aliens you could hope to meet. With luck you should be able to disable equipment and machinery by removing vital components.

But your first priority must be survival – you were only able to bring a limited arsenal with you – to stay alive you'll have to live by your wits – steal what weapons and ammunition you can – learn as you go and kill. You must kill every alien you come across and create as much havoc and confusion as possible – and, once you've completed your objectives the Elders expect you to escape with the information they so desperately need – nothing must stop you, nothing must get in your way, the mission is all important.

Only one thing can save the Federation now – you

The last Obliterator.

PLAYING INSTRUCTIONS

Welcome to the world of Obliterator.

Within the Alien space craft you control our hero 'Drak'. Once the game has started you will materialise somewhere in the rear of the alien space craft and in order to complete the game you must perform the following tasks in any desired order:

You must find and remove this component to disable the plasma drive engines.

You must find and remove this component to disable the battle shields.

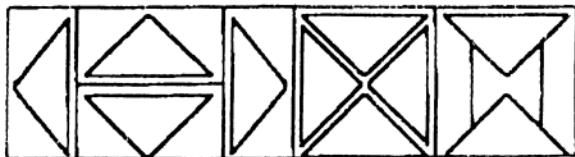

You must find and remove this component to disable the main weapons system.

You must find and remove this computer datapack.

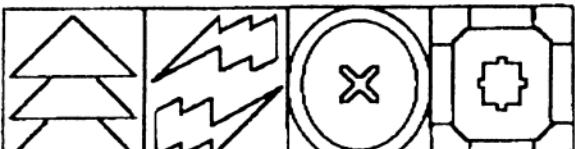

You must find this component and place it correctly in the shuttle to activate its systems and escape.

Whilst completing these tasks you will be confronted by various creatures and contraptions which you must destroy to earn points. Once all five tasks have been completed the score will count down (the border colour will now be slightly blue) until it reaches zero at which point the Federation fighters will attack. If you have not reached and activated the shuttle before this happens you will be destroyed. If you are successful your score is your remaining points.

INSTRUCTIONS POUR LE JEU

Bienvenue au monde d'Obliterator.

Vous contrôlez notre héros 'Drak' à l'intérieur du vaisseau spatial extra-terrestre. Une fois que le jeu a commencé, vous apparaîtrez quelque part à l'arrière du vaisseau spatial extra-terrestre, et, pour terminer le jeu, vous devez exécuter les tâches suivantes dans l'ordre requis:

Vous devez trouver et enlever ce composant pour handicaper les moteurs à propulsion de plasma.

Vous devez trouver et enlever ce composant pour handicaper les boucliers de combat.

Vous devez trouver et enlever ce composant pour handicaper le système d'armes principal.

Vous devez trouver et enlever cet ensemble de données d'ordinateur.

Vous devez trouver ce composant et le placer correctement dans la navette pour activer ses systèmes et échapper.

Pendant que vous remplissez ces tâches, vous serez confronté par diverses créatures et bidules que vous devez détruire pour marquer des points. Une fois les cinq tâches terminées, la marque comptera à rebours (la couleur de la bordure sera à présent légèrement bleue) jusqu'à ce qu'elle atteigne zéro: à ce moment, les combattants de la Fédération vous attaqueront. Si vous n'avez pas atteint et activé activé la navette avant ce moment-là, vous serez détruit. Si vous réussissez à le faire, les points qui restent constitueront votre score.

SPIELANLEITUNG

Willkommen in der Welt von Obliterator.

Innerhalb des außerirdischen Raumschiffes kontrollieren Sie unseren Helden 'Drak'. Zu Spielbeginn materialisieren Sie sich irgendwo im hinteren Teil des Raumschiffes, und um das Spiel erfolgreich zu beenden, müssen Sie die folgenden Aufgaben erfüllen, wobei die Reihenfolge Ihnen überlassen bleibt:

Sie müssen diese Komponente finden und entfernen, um den Plasmaantrieb außer Kraft zu setzen.

Sie müssen diese Komponente finden und entfernen, um den Kampf-Schutzschild außer Kraft zu setzen.

Sie müssen diese Komponente finden und entfernen, um die Hauptwaffensysteme außer Kraft zu setzen.

Sie müssen diese Computer-Datenbank finden und entfernen.

Sie müssen diese Komponente finden und im Shuttle in der richtigen Position plazieren, was dessen Systeme aktiviert und Ihre Flucht ermöglicht.

Während Sie versuchen, diese Aufgaben zu erfüllen, werden Sie auf die verschiedensten Kreaturen und Apparate treffen, die Sie zerstören müssen, um Ihre Punkte zu erhalten. Sobald Sie alle fünf Aufgaben erfüllt haben, zählt die Punktanzeige rückwärts (die Umrandung ändert die Farbe zu hellblau), bis sie Null erreicht, worauf der Angriff der Föderationssoldaten beginnt. Sollten Sie zu diesem Zeitpunkt Ihr Shuttle nicht erreicht und aktiviert haben, bedeutet dies Ihr Ende. Waren Sie jedoch erfolgreich, stellen die übriggebliebenen Punkte Ihre Endpunktzahl für das Spiel dar.

ISTRUZIONI PER GIOCARE

Benvenuti nel mondo di Obliterator.

Tu sei in controllo del nostro eroe 'Drak' all'interno della nave spaziale aliena. Quando il gioco comincia, ti materializzi in un punto della parte posteriore del vascello alieno e per poter portare a termine il gioco, DEVI eseguire i seguenti compiti in qualsiasi ordine desideri:

Devi trovare e rimuovere questo componente per disattivare i motori a plasma.

Devi trovare e rimuovere questo componente per disattivare gli scudi di protezione.

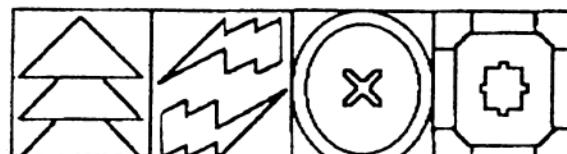

Devi trovare e rimuovere questo componente per disattivare il sistema d'arma principale.

Devi trovare e rimuovere questo dischetto dati del computer.

Devi trovare e rimuovere questo componente e posizionarlo correttamente nella navetta per poter attivare il sistema e fuggire.

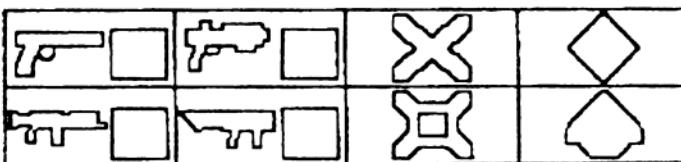

Durante l'esecuzione di questi compiti, incontrerai diverse creature e marchingegni che devi distruggere per guadagnare punti. Un volta terminati i cinque compiti, il punteggio prenderà a contare alla rovescia (il colore dei bordi diventa leggermente azzurro) fino a quando non arriva allo zero. A questo punto, i caccia della Federazione attaccheranno. Se non hai raggiunto e attivato la navetta prima che questo accada, verrai distrutto. Se ci riesci, il tuo punteggio sarà costituito dai punti rimasti.
